

ECMP

Robert Boyle Foundation

Lunchtime Event

Walkabout & Talkabout: Art to Challenge and Inspire Medical Physics

When: Thu 18th Aug and Fri 19th Aug, Lunchtime 12.45-13.30 pm.

Where: Mezzanine corridor (exit main lecture theatre at upper level, signed in lift and stairway)

Who: Jim Malone & Fran Hegarty.

What: A refreshing break from scientific sessions. We expect to walk a little and talk a lot about major art works that surprise, inspire, challenge, or otherwise address the parts of life in medical physics that the science may not reach. They bring multiple new energies to enhancing single patient focus.

See over/

Image overleaf: © Sfera con Sfera by Arnaldo Pomodoro. With reflections at Trinity College Dublin.

Images on display: From Wed 17th Aug (lunchtime) until 3.00 pm Fri 19th Aug.

Teaser: What Dublin born artist was influenced by Clark's Positioning in Radiography (1942). It may have inspired a see through quality and strange, often bizarre, positioning often in his work. He, inadvertently, provides a unique take on the risk of becoming a Head of Department. His studio and personal habits defy Health and Safety advice and inspire adolescents with chaotic untidy rooms. Answers before noon on Thu 18th Aug to jfmal@gmail.com. Prize for winner: Visit to the studio.